Iran and the United States of America have never had good relations but the recent conflict that intensified late February 2026 was the result of rising tensions and the failed negotiations between both states. The situation worsened when U.S. and Israel launched coordinated airstrikes on Iranian military and government sites that caused the death of the Supreme Leader of Iran, Ayatollah Ali Khamenei. Israel and US killed both first and second tier leadership of Iran. These actions triggered a strong military response from Tehran. A dangerous cycle of escalation began that spread to whole Middle Eastern region. The war killed thousands of people across multiple countries, shut down the world's most critical oil passage, the Strait of Hormuz, and sent energy prices soaring. As a result, the global economy suffered and most importantly, the world was at the brink of broader regional war and there were speculations about potential World War 3. Amid the fears of further escalations, international community struggled to find a credible partner that could stay neutral and had the trust of both Iran and America. At this critical moment, Pakistan stepped forward as a key diplomatic player that realized how deadly further escalations could be and how important it is to restore world peace. It was determined to prevent further damage. The efforts of Pakistan resulted in 2 weeks ceasefire between Iran and America and the Islamabad Peace Process began. It is a series of intense diplomatic efforts centered around the Islamabad Talks, hosted by Pakistan in its capital, Islamabad, on April 11-12, 2026. These talks became one of the most significant peace initiatives of the modern era. The Islamabad Talks hosted by Pakistan carry great significance because, since the Islamic Revolution in 1979, the leadership of Iran and the United States had never engaged in face-to-face discussions. No country had been able to bring them together under one roof and at the same table

During the discussion, he shared in-depth insights on governance systems and emphasized the critical importance of sustainable development over short-term, visually appealing initiatives. De-escalation in Iran–US–Israel Tensions: Analysis by Mr. Khalid Taimur on FM 98 Dosti

Channel

8 April 2026

On 08 April 2026, Mr. Khalid Taimur Akram participated in FM 98 Dosti Channel's live program HUM QADAM in Islamabad. The discussion focused on the recent de-escalation in tensions among Iran, the United States, and Israel, a situation that had raised serious global concerns over the past several weeks. It was noted that consistent diplomatic efforts by countries such as Pakistan and China played an important role in preventing further escalation and keeping dialogue channels open, which ultimately contributed to a ceasefire understanding between the concerned parties.

In his analysis, Mr. Khalid Taimur Akram stated that Pakistan's diplomatic engagement proved instrumental, as both Iran and the United States responded positively to the proposed temporary ceasefire. He observed that despite strong rhetoric, including statements associated with U.S. President Donald Trump, the situation shifted towards restraint and dialogue. He further highlighted the resilience of Iran's leadership under pressure, emphasizing that states can maintain stability even in difficult circumstances.

Islamabad Emerging as Peace Hub | Pakistan's Growing Global Role | Mr. Khalid Taimur

| Vision Point

On 14 April 2026, Mr. Khalid Taimur Akram participated in a podcast discussion where he shared key insights on Pakistan's evolving diplomatic role in facilitating dialogue between the United States and Iran in Islamabad. He emphasized that these discussions should not be seen as inconclusive, but rather as part of a long-term diplomatic process—especially considering that such high-level face-to-face engagement between the two countries had not occurred in over four decades since the Iranian Revolution. He described Pakistan's role not merely as a facilitator, but as a mediator that successfully brought both sides together during a period of active conflict, marking a notable breakthrough in global diplomacy.

Mr. Akram further argued that this development reflects Pakistan's emergence as a regional power with growing global credibility, capable of influencing complex geopolitical dynamics. He noted that Pakistan's efforts could yield long-term economic dividends, including increased investor confidence, enhanced regional connectivity through Iran to Central Asia and Europe, and a stronger international image as a peace-promoting state.
