Rising Terrorism in Balochistan & Middle East Tensions: Mr. Khalid Taimur's Analysis on PTV World

17 March 2025

On 17 March 2025, Mr. Khalid Taimur Akram provided an exclusive analysis on the program "NEWSROOM" on PTV World. In the first half of the segment, Mr. Khalid Taimur Akram focused on providing an in-depth analysis of Pakistan's ongoing security challenges, particularly in Balochistan, where a spike in terrorist attacks has been noted, especially during the month of Ramadan. He pointed out that the Baloch Liberation Army (BLA) has transformed from a separatist group into a more organized terrorist organization, receiving support from hostile entities and international human rights organizations. Recent incidents, such as a vehicle bombing and the Jaffer Express attack, reflect these escalating threats, often fueled by smuggled American weaponry from Afghanistan.

In the second half of the segment, Mr. Akram discussed the conflicts in Yemen and broader regional tensions, including attacks on the Houthis, which pose threats to strategic maritime security for Israeli and American interests. Mr. Akram noted that resource competition and shifting global dynamics make areas like Gaza, Yemen, Ukraine, and Balochistan crucial, challenging the established rules-based world order.

Understanding India's Opposition to CPEC: Key Insights from Mr. Khalid Taimur at VP

Urdu Channel

27 March 2025

On 27 March 2025, Mr. Khalid Taimur Akram, Executive Director of the Pakistan Research Center for a Community with Shared Future (PRCCSF), took to the Vision Point Urdu Channel to delve into the intricate reasons behind India's opposition to the China-Pakistan Economic Corridor (CPEC). During the discussion, Mr. Akram emphasized the geopolitical dynamics at play, explaining how CPEC represents not just an infrastructure project but a pivotal shift in regional alliances. He highlighted that India's opposition is rooted in its concerns over strategic encirclement by China, which CPEC symbolizes as it enhances China's presence in South Asia.

Furthermore, Mr. Akram explored the economic implications of CPEC that contribute to India's dissent. The corridor facilitates increased connectivity and trade between China and Pakistan, offering immense benefits to the Pakistani economy. India's apprehension stems from fears that this could diminish its own influence in the region and impact its economic interests. Additionally, the strategic military dimensions of CPEC, particularly concerning areas that India claims, were discussed, emphasizing that India's multifaceted resistance is driven by a combination of national security, economic foresight, and geopolitical competition within the South Asian landscape.

China's Two Sessions 2025: National Trajectory Towards High-Quality Development and Growth

Published on 11 March, 2025

<https://prccsf.com/paper/pdf/Chinas-Two-Sessions-2025.pdf>

On The annual Two Sessions of China, encompassing the National People's Congress (NPC) and the Chinese People's Political Consultative Conference (CPPCC), is the country's most significant political gathering. Held from March 4 to March 10-11, 2025, these sessions offer vital insights into China's second centennial goals, economic outlook, development plans, and global vision for the upcoming year.

A significant point of emphasis during the 2025 Two Sessions is China's ongoing commitment to the 14th Five-Year Plan (2021-2025), prioritizing "dual circulation," innovation, and sustainable development. The dual circulation strategy seeks to leverage both local and global markets to enhance economic resilience. In strengthening domestic consumption, China also seeks to enhance its global economic integration by providing foreign investors with greater access to its markets and promoting Chinese companies to grow internationally.

Plight of the Western Azerbaijan Community

Published on 17 March, 2025

<https://prccsf.com/paper/pdf/Plight-of-Western-Azerbaijan-Community.pdf>

The Western Azerbaijan Community, established in 1989, is dedicated to safeguarding the rights of Azerbaijanis who were forcibly displaced from Armenia. This community plays a crucial role in advocating for the repatriation of these displaced individuals while ensuring justice and peace in alignment with international law, domestic legislation, and historical evidence.

Rooted in a deep historical perspective, the Western Azerbaijan Community is the legal successor of the "Azerbaijan Refugee Society," which has been operational since 1989. On August 3, 2022, the association was renamed as the "West Azerbaijan Community" (WAC). Over the past two centuries, Azerbaijanis have endured severe hardships, including occupation, ethnic cleansing, and genocide. The tumultuous events of the 1900s saw Azerbaijanis forcibly expelled from their ancestral lands in Armenia, leaving lasting scars on generations. Amidst this backdrop of displacement and injustice, the Western Azerbaijan Community stands as an unwavering advocate for the countless families uprooted by these crises. WAC's efforts are geared toward securing justice for all and implementing the "Concept of Return" to ensure that displaced Azerbaijanis can reclaim their rightful homes.

<https://prccsf.com/paper/pdf/Peace-Deal-Kyrgyz-and-Tajikistan.pdf>

A significant milestone in Central Asian history has been achieved with the resolution of the last border conflict in the region. The signing of a border treaty between the Kyrgyz Republic and Tajikistan marks a crucial step toward lasting peace and regional cooperation. On March 13, 2024, Kyrgyz Republic President Sadyr Japarov and Emomali Rahmon of Tajikistan convened in Bishkek to formalize this historic agreement, officially ending decades of border disputes and fostering diplomatic progress between the two nations.

The Treaty on the Delimitation and Demarcation of the Kyrgyz-Tajik Border, signed during the high-level meeting, resolves long-standing territorial disagreements covering 980 kilometers from the "tri-point" with Uzbekistan to the junction with China. The agreement also includes 16 additional documents focusing on crucial aspects such as water and energy infrastructure, road transport, and economic cooperation. The signing of these agreements reflects a shared commitment to mutual growth and security. Tajikistan's President Emomali Rahmon made his first state visit to Bishkek in nearly twelve years, underscoring the significance of this breakthrough. His presence highlighted the importance of diplomatic engagement in resolving disputes and reinforcing intergovernmental ties. Following the treaty signing, the two leaders inaugurated two checkpoints on the border via a virtual ceremony, symbolizing a new era of collaboration and connectivity.
